

Peninsula Enterprise.

ACCOMAC COURT-HOUSE, VA.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1893.

Entered at the Postoffice at Accomac C. H., Va., as second-class matter.

President-elect Cleveland has officially announced the names of five members of his cabinet and will give the names of other gentlemen selected to fill the positions as fast as he receives their acceptances and permission to make the matter public. The appointments made to date are Walter Q. Gresham, of Illinois, Secretary of State, John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky, Secretary of the Treasury, Daniel S. Lamont, of New York, Secretary of War, Wilson S. Bissell, of New York, Postmaster General, and Hoke Smith, of Georgia, Secretary of Interior—neither of whom with the exception of Mr. Carlisle has been known to the country as a national leader in the Democratic party. Mr. Gresham is a man of great ability and everybody seems to have a kind word for him, but as an active member of the Republican party only a little more than a year ago, the selection of him is open to criticism and the query pertinent, if there was not enough good Cabinet timber in the Democratic party from which a selection might have been made. Two other members of his Cabinet, Lamont and Bissell have no prouder claim to distinction, so far as we are advised, than that the one has been his private secretary and the other his law partner and the universal inquiry doubtless was, who is Hoke Smith?—until it was ascertained that he was an "original Cleveland man" and the editor of a paper in the state of Georgia. But, so great has been the confidence of the people of the country in the wisdom of Mr. Cleveland, that it will be hard to convince them that he has made a mistake in this matter, and we incline to the belief that despite their obscurity, that Mr. Cleveland has discovered in them ability, which we know not of, to conduct successfully their departments and in the best interests of the country. Every act of his eventful life has been characterized by too much wisdom for us to believe that he could make the mistake of surrounding himself with advisers, who for want of ability will bring discredit upon his administration and thereby mar to some extent the brilliant record which he has made for statesmanship.

The action of the County Alliance at Parkley last Wednesday was, we believe, a step in the right direction. We agree with them that there was nothing to be gained by a further union with the State Alliance and very heartily concur with them, in the opinion, that there was a necessity for retaining their organization in the county. Their action indeed was so nearly in accord with views long entertained by us, that it looks almost like "they had stolen our thunder." We could never see what benefit could accrue to us from the connection with Alliances in other parts in the State, too remote from us to be beneficial, if their interests were not as they often are entirely in conflict with ours, but the necessity for an organization among ourselves was never doubted by us. With identical interests to be promoted and like grievances to be redressed, the ends desired of course, can be best attained by co-operation. Indeed, with the light they now have on their hands against the N. Y. P. & N. R. Co., in the matter of freights, they could not disband, but that is very far from being the only reason why organization among them is necessary. For instance, it was in testimony in the Railroad case that a barrel of potatoes could not be raised for less than a dollar per barrel, and does anyone doubt that our farmers by acting together could in a great measure control the market and prevent them from being sold at ruinous prices? Indeed, could they not so regulate the supply that it would not be greater than the demand? Would not concert of action on their part lead to a greater diversity of crops, better methods of cultivation, better preparation of their produce for market and give them the power, it may be, to bring purchasers to their very doors, of their produce. The good to be obtained by organization could be elaborated indefinitely. By all means, the organization proposed should be effected and every farmer at least should feel it his duty to be a member of it.

Mayor J. Taylor Ellyson, of Richmond, the president of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association, will have a conference at once with Mrs. Davis in New York with regard to the removal of her husband's remains to Richmond on May 30. Mrs. Davis was a few days ago informed of the purpose of the association to carry out that object and promptly wrote Mr. Ellyson to come to New York and confer with her about the arrangements for the removal of the body.

The literary societies of the University of Virginia have decided to invite the Hon. W. Bourke Cockran, of New York, to address them at their final joint celebration in June.

A bill has been introduced in the Pennsylvania legislature to punish the manufacture or sale in that State of cigarettes, by $1,000 fine and one year imprisonment.

The name of Hon. Geo. D. Wise of Richmond, is added by the newspaper correspondents to the list of candidates for the Senatorship.

Inaugural Ceremonies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The work of committees having charge of the ceremonies incident to the inauguration of President-elect Cleveland is progressing satisfactorily. Gen. McMahon and Col. Corbin, who have supervision of the arrangements of the parade, are daily receiving applications from military organizations all over the United States for positions in the line. More than 100 civic organizations, including Tammany, have thus far reported a probable strength of over 17,000 men to form in line on March 4. The Governors of the following States have notified the committee that they will be in line, accompanied by members of their respective staffs, and, in addition, by independent military companies: Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Ohio, Louisiana, and Wisconsin. It is almost certain that a majority of the Governors of the remaining States will be present, but as yet they have not notified the committee. Pennsylvania, as usual, will send the largest representation of any State. Its full National Guard of 8,000 men will be in line. New York will send its crack organizations, the 7th and 68th regiments, and probably Company A of the 8th regiment, Brooklyn. The following independent organizations have notified the committee to reserve their positions in the line: Georgia Hussars, Monumental City Guards and Baltimore Rifles, Palmetto Guards, of Charleston, S. C.; Cleveland Troop and Alliance Guards, Ohio, and the Fort Worth Fencibles, Texas. There is every probability that the inauguration of March 4, 1893, will surpass all its predecessors.

Another Confederate Monument. Through the exertions of the ladies of the Confederate Memorial Association of Charlottesville, Va., the way has been made clear for fixing a date for the unveiling of the Confederate monument in that city. The unveiling is to take place on the second of June next, and the occasion promises to be one of great interest. The design of Casper Hubert, of New York, for the figure to surmount the pedestal has been accepted. The figure is said to be handsome, the attitude heroic and quite the ideal soldier. The pedestal is fourteen feet high and the figure six so from base to top of the monument will be twenty feet high. The pedestal will be of Virginia granite and the figure of first-class bronze. On the sides of the pedestal are inserted bronze tablets bearing in raised letters the names and regiments of one thousand and eighty-two Confederate soldiers buried in Charlottesville. The ladies are looking about for an orator for the occasion, and the names of several distinguished gentlemen are under consideration.

The Oyster Question. RICHMOND, Va., February 15.—Mr. Ettinger, the owner of Fox Island and one of the largest oyster planters in the State, has been here for several days, and has appeared before the Board of the Chesapeake and its Tributaries with regard to the oyster law. He thinks the act of the last Legislature a long step in the right direction, but that the law needs amendment. He will send a memorial to the Richmond Chamber of Commerce and other bodies in Tidewater Virginia, asking their support in a movement to secure the changes desired. In this connection it may be stated that the Governor has recently received several communications urging him to call an extra session of the Legislature at once to amend the oyster law, but he will not do so.

VIRGINIA NEWS. The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of Virginia meets at Richmond on February 19th. The Greenbrier Creamery Company has, since it began operations, paid out over $100,000 for milk and operating expenses. A merchant near Buena Vista, Va., bought 3,000 rabbits this season at 10 cents a piece, and sold them at 12 1/2 cents. Among the historical Washington papers is a contract between the Father of His country and the foreman of his farm. One clause of the contract provides that the foreman may get drunk a certain number of times each year. The Fourth Virginia Regiment with the Norfolk Light Artillery Blues will number 400 men in line at the Cleveland inauguration, under command of Col. C. A. Nash and headed by the Regimental band. The steamer George Leary has been chartered by the military and will be the headquarters.

At a mass-meeting of the oystermen held at Matthews Courthouse, last Monday resolutions memorializing the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature to extend the touting season to the 1st of May, and to make necessary modifications in the oyster law for the relief of oystermen, were unanimously adopted. The most valuable contribution to the relics for the Confederate museum to be established in the house occupied by Mr. Davis while President of the Confederacy was received in Richmond on Saturday. It is a beautifully bound album, containing over eighty specimens of notes issued by the Confederate States. The collection was presented by Mr. R. P. Thian, clerk of the adjutant General's office, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Alexander Burton, of Stafford county, owns a dress that was worn by one of her husband's ancestors—Mrs. Rachel Burton—who died one hundred and thirteen years ago. The age of the dress and the death of the original owner are verified by record. The material is of fine brown muslin and in excellent preservation. Instead of ordinary trimming the dress is set off by worked flowers made of white cotton thread.

From the annual report of the State Commissioner of Agriculture, just issued, the following statistics of Virginia mining and manufacturing interests for 1892 are gathered: New mines opened, 36, embracing coal, iron, slate, granite, asbestos, marble, gold, mull, manganese, limestone, onyx, etc.; new factories started, 78, embracing as many different interests; new mills, 72, consisting chiefly of lumber, flour, corn, grist and planing; new furnaces and machine shops, 12; new electric light plants, 12. The above is exclusive of many small industries in rural districts and various mechanical enterprises started throughout the State.

A bricklayer of Hamilton, Ohio, has invented a mode of making new whiskey twenty years old by the application of electricity. A company is about being formed to use the invention.

Watch Stolen

$20 Reward!

You often see notices like this in the newspapers. Ninety per cent of all the losses in watches are due to the old-fashioned ring that can be so easily wrenched from the case. Only the BOSS Cases have the new Non pull-out rings that cannot be pulled or twisted from the case, and watches in these cases alone are thief-proof and accident-proof.

Special Manure

Sweet Potatoes.

As an inducement to the farmers of this section to try our Special Manure for Sweet Potatoes, we offer free, a first-class round trip railroad ticket to the World's Fair at Chicago, or its equivalent in cash, to the farmer who grows this year, on one measured acre, the largest quantity of marketable sweet potatoes, by the use of our special manure.

This manure contains only the choicest forms of plant food for sweet potatoes, the ammonia being derived from the highest grade animal matter and sulphate of ammonia, and the potash from high grade sulphate, free from chlorine. This manure is manufactured especially for sweet potatoes and is particularly adapted to the soil of this section.

We also manufacture SURE GROWTH COMPOUND, a special manure for Irish potatoes and truck. These goods are in strictly dry condition, free from stickiness, and are guaranteed to drill perfectly. We manufacture special manures for strawberries, cabbage, tomatoes, cauliflower and fruits, and will be glad to name prices and full analysis on application.

Our goods may be bought from the following gentlemen, who will furnish full information as to the prize contest:
